DOUBLE HANGING AT RICHMOND.

Emanuel Morris and Pete Au-trey Die Upon the Scaffold There.

BOTH CONFESSED THEIR MURDERS.

The Former Killed a Little Blind Negro Girl and the Latter His Paramour.

HOW THE TWO MEN TOOK THEIR DOOM.

Morris Displayed Some Nervousness, but Autrey Met His Fate In a Calm and Careless Manner.

Richmond, Tex., Oct. 29.—Emanuel Morris, colored, for the murder and outrage of little blind Fannie Williams, a 5-year-old girl of his own color, and Pete Autrey, for the assassination of Charlotte Bookman, his paramour, paid the penalty of their crimes on the gallows in the county jail here yesterday. The double execution passed off smoothly in the presence of about 40 spectators.

Morris was the first lead to the scaffold. He made a rambling talk confessing his crime and thanking the officers by name for their kindness to him and closed with a prayer in unison with the priest. At 1:42 the trigger was pulled and for 25 minutes his body hung almost motionless, save for a few spasmodic movements of the feet. His neck was broken, the fall being only about five and a half feet, but his death was painless.

Then Autrey, also colored, emerged from a side cell from which he had been entertaining the outside crowd with the virtues of his jailors and his certainty of going to glory, and gaily informed the spectators of his arrival and his readiness to go. He left instructions to give his hat to a relative and shook hands with an old acquaintance and called out cheerily to those he knew in the crowd.
The death warrant had been read to him while Morris was dangling at the end of the rope, and the arrangements for his journey were shorter. He prayed and again acknowledging his crime in a few words and with his perpetual goodnatured smile took his place upon the disappearing door. At 2:30 the level was sprung and the crack of his neck was plainly heard all over the room, as well as the snap of his heels on the iron floor, the rope had been lengthened and his fall was greater than that of Morris.
He struggled for a few minutes, but life was declared extinct in 14 minutes, and 10 minutes later his body was laid beside that of Emanuel Morris to be turned over to the undertaker.

COLONEL WARING DIES OF YELLOW FEVER.

He Was Stricken on His Return From Havana and Never Recovered From the Illness.

New York, Oct. 29.—Colonel George E. Waring Jr. died of yellow fever at his home in this city, where he had been since his arrival from Havana, on the steamer Yucatan, Tuesday last. He was 81 years of age. Dr. Blauvelt, who has been attending Colonel Waring during his illness, was summoned to the house at 1 o'clock this morning. He found that Colonel Waring had been attacked with black vomit. This symptom continued without cessation and he died at 8 o'clock.

President Murphy of the board of health was informed of the death of Colonel Waring within five minutes after it occurred. Dr. Roberts, the sanitary superintendent, ordered the body placed in a hermetically sealed casket immediately. Murphy also gave orders that every precaution be taken to prevent a spread of the disease.

Colonel Waring was sent to the city of Havana as a special commissioner of this government to ascertain the exact sanitary conditions of that city and to form ideas for the best means of putting the place in first class sanitary shape.
He was to report to President McKinley on the day he returned, but he said he felt unwell and would go the next day.
He was stricken down and never reached Washington. He said he had a great deal of information which he thought would be of service to the president.

BUILDING OF THE NICARAGUA CANAL.

It Is the Intention of the Administration to Urge Its Construction by Government Aid.

New York, Oct. 29.—A special to The Herald from Washington says:

It is the intention of the administration to urge the construction of the Nicaraguan canal by the government aid, in accordance with the concession of the Mortgage Canal company. This statement was made by an official of the administration in response of the report that Edwin F. Cragin of Chicago and Edward E. Yere and Frank S. Washburne of New York, had entered into an agreement with President Zelaya to construct an interoceanic canal. Officially the state department has no information showing that President Zelaya has granted the concession mentioned to the canal after the lapse of next October of the concession of the Mortgage Canal company. Private advices received here however, show that the report is true.
